NAHB SPRING CONSTRUCTION FORECAST WEBINAR

FREE WEBINAR FOR CBIA MEMBERS - $30 Value

Housing production in 2013 finished just about where we said it would, with preliminary totals at 923,000 and the December construction pace at an annualized rate of 999,000. Yet obstacles remain in the form of tight labor markets and continued policy risks.

What will 2014 bring for builders and suppliers? We'll explore coming trends—from national data to what's going on in your neck of the woods.

Join me and my special guests, Maury Harris, Managing Director and Chief Economist for the Americas, UBS, and Robert Denk, NAHB's Assistant Vice President for Forecasting and Analysis, as we present the latest economic data and opinion in a streamlined, efficient format. We will examine topics like:

- Housing's potential and most likely path in 2014
- Recovery hurdles like labor shortages and tight credit
- Tailwinds pushing housing such as demographics and pent-up demand
- Future Federal Reserve actions and their impacts
